Careful of All Preparations for Chief Executive's Safety in Cities Where He Will Stop—May Address Overflow Meeting at Cleveland—Platform Outline Speeches to Be Made.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pittsburgh, Jan. 29.—President Wilson, opening here today his six-day program of speaking in the middle west on national preparedness, told a throng which packed Memorial hall that the test of national preparedness lay not with congress, but with the young men of the country in their answer to the call to volunteer and their employers who should oppose no obstacle to free response.

"And I for one," said the president, "believe both the young men, the employers and others will do their duty."

"And I am not afraid that America will not do enough. I am only earnestly desirous that she should be very coolly considerate of what she does. One cool judgment is worth a thousand hasty counsels."

The president was closely guarded by approximately 500 police as he walked from the hotel to the hall. The intervening space was solidly packed with men and women who cheered as he passed.

The arrival of the president was heralded by a fan fare of trumpets and the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Wilson entered first and was warmly applauded. When the president arrived the crowd broke into loud cheering.

As Mrs. Wilson stepped out on the platform the band played a wedding march. She smiled broadly.

President Wilson rose to speak amid great applause. He declared he was conscious of being a truant from Washington but that he felt it his duty to report to the people on the affairs of the nation. He added he got more inspiration outside of Washington than inside it.

"I believe in peace. I love peace. I would not be a true American if I did not love peace, but I know that peace costs something. That the only way you can maintain peace is to enjoy the respect of everybody with whom you deal."

EXPLOSION INJURES FOUR AT LECTURE TO MILITARY CLASS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Halifax, N. S., Jan. 29.—One officer and three soldiers were seriously injured and five soldiers received minor burns and cuts today when an explosion occurred in the old Cunard building, where a military class in bomb manufacturing was listening to a lecture by Captain Hurd of the sixth military division.

None of the men who were in the room at the time of the explosion has yet been able to give a definite explanation of the accident. Military authorities will make an investigation.

PITTSBURGH BANK PROMPTLY PAID, STOPPING A RUN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pittsburgh, Jan. 29.—Foreign depositors, who had heard a rumor that one of the Pittsburgh banks was about to close its doors, appeared at the Farmers Savings bank this afternoon and demanded their money. Other depositors heard there was a run on the bank and two policemen were sent to the institution to see there was no disorder. All depositors were paid as they appeared, and after a time the excitement somewhat subsided.

Officers of the bank declared they were at a loss to account for the run as the bank was never in better condition than at the present time, although there have been persistent rumors that it was in danger. Only savings banks in Pittsburgh are open after noon on Saturday.

ORDEAL

Of Mrs. Elizabeth Mohr on the Witness Stand Is Past

EXAMINATION IS CONCLUDED TODAY

At Special Session Held to Expedite Trial

ADMISSIONS MADE BY HER

Rather Reluctantly of Incidents of Domestic Life With Murdered Physician Did Not Weaken Her Principal Denial That She Was Innocent of Conspiring to Kill Him.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Providence, R. I., Jan. 29.—In order to expedite the trial of Elizabeth F. Mohr, Cecil Brown and Henry Spellman, for the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, the court omitted the usual Saturday recess and held a forenoon session today. Mrs. Mohr, whose cross-examination was concluded yesterday, came under redirect examination today.

Arthur Cushing began the redirect examination by offering in evidence a letter written by Dr. Mohr to E. J. Sullivan of Fall River, Mass., to which Attorney General Rice objected.

"This letter bears upon the question of the marriage," John Fitzgerald of the defense declared in arguing that it should be admitted.

After reading the letter the court ruled that it could be introduced on proper proof, but held that the prosecution should have the right to comment on the absence of Sullivan who is Mrs. Mohr's brother-in-law, if he is not put on as a witness. Mr. Cushing then presented the record of the birth and baptism of the Mohr children. The witness testified that both children were baptized at the cathedral and that Dr. Mohr took them there.

After having repeatedly asserted that she never intended to divorce her husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, and that there was no sincere desire on his part to divorce her, Mrs. Mohr admitted in cross-examination yesterday that she had discussed with her attorneys last summer the question of allowing Dr. Mohr to have an absolute divorce on the basis of his turning over to her his Newport villa, known as the Montpelier, and $75,000 in cash.

She denied that she had made offers to Dr. Mohr's attorneys through her own lawyers to let her husband have an absolute divorce for the Newport house and $20,000, or the Elmwood avenue house and $15,000. She would not say whether her husband had made an offer of $10,000 for the divorce, but declared that some offer was made to her and refused.

"Then you did decide to let the doctor have a divorce for the Newport house and $75,000?" asked the Attorney-General.

"I talked it over with my attorneys," replied Mrs. Mohr, "but I don't think I could have done it."

Mrs. Mohr described anew the alleged brutalities of her husband, but asserted that she loved him. "I loved him from the bottom of my heart. He almost killed me one (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3.)

FAMOUS OLD GENERAL PUTNIK CARRIED IN BOX DURING THE GREAT SERBIAN RETREAT THROUGH ALBANIAN ALPS

Retreating Serbians in Albania carrying General Putnik in box.

This is one of the most tragic photos of the war. Marshal Putnik, the aged Serbian commander-in-chief who distinguished himself in many Serbian campaigns and who was the directing genius of Serbia's determined fight against Austria, was forced to drink the bitter dregs of defeat. Enabled by age and the strain of battle against superior Teuton odds, the old commander was unable either to mount a horse or walk. An improvised rickshaw was secured and the old general retreated with his army through the Albanian Alps on the shoulders of his faithful followers.

Wall of Water, Thirty Feet High, Swept Down a California Valley Causing the Loss of Fifty Lives

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Diego, Calif., Jan. 29.—(By radio to Los Angeles.)—At least fifty lives were lost Thursday in a wall of water thirty feet high which swept down the Otay valley, according to an estimate made by the coroner early today.

When the lower dam of the southern California mountain water company broke late Thursday, it released a flood of eleven billion gallons of water into the populous valley, which lies just south of here, devastating an area fifteen miles long and two miles wide. The property damage it is believed will reach $1,000,000.

Another dam continues today near the breaking point, threatening additional ruin in the valley. Scores of persons are reported missing, and it is believed a number of bodies were carried out to sea.

Rescue parties are striving to reach the scene, approach to which is extremely difficult, owing to swollen streams and the fact that all of the bridges between San Diego and the little valley have been carried away by the flood waters of the last two weeks. All roads are virtually impassable.

Hundreds of families cut off from communication are believed to be threatened with a food famine. Plans are being made here to send relief supplies into the flooded district as soon as possible.

One report stated that 25 Japanese, including men, women and children, were among the drowned.

The heavy rains during the last two days filled the lower Otay dam for the first time in its history. Realizing the dam was weakening under the great pressure of water, warning was sent to people in the valley to flee for their lives.

It was unheeded by many, according to reports here. The residents in the valley preferring to remain and endeavor to protect their property.

Although the emptied reservoir was the principal source of the San Diego city water supply, there was no danger of a water famine here it was said by officials as there are other sources from which the city can draw an ample amount.

Telephone and telegraph communication with the valley has been cut off since the gale and rain storm swept this city early Thursday morning.

Engineering parties and civil authorities joined the rescue parties which hastened today to the aid of the lower Otay dam, 17 miles southeast of here to investigate engineering methods.

The dam, 130 feet high, was of the loose rock type, with concrete side walls. In the center was imbedded a core of riveted steel, the object being to make a water tight dam without building a solid concrete one. A masonry structure was first intended, and foundations were laid for it and the change created considerable speculation among engineers.

ENTIRE COAST

Along Pacific Has Suffered From Storm Raging Since Thursday.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Francisco, Jan. 29.—The storm that has raged over the entire Pacific coast since early Thursday has claimed a toll of not less than sixty lives and caused property damage amounting to millions of dollars, according to reports thus far received.

It is feared further loss of life will be reported when lines of communication with isolated parts of the state are cleared.

The greatest loss of life occurred in the Otay valley, south of San Diego, when the lower dam of the California Mountain Water company broke Thursday afternoon. Not less than fifty persons, according to figures reported by the coroner's office, lost their lives.

Just outside the Golden Gate, eight lives were lost yesterday when the garbage carrier Aberdeen, of Oakland, Calif., was wrecked.

Flood waters and high winds did much damage in various parts of the state. The oil districts in particular have suffered severely, hundreds of derricks being toppled over.

The storm struck the northwestern states heavily, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana reporting cold and snow. Montana last night shivered with the thermometer ranging from twenty to fifty-four degrees below zero. Railway traffic is demoralized by snowslides.

Flood conditions prevailed in Arizona, reports from Yuma being that the rivers above that point are swelling rapidly. Pears are entangled of a repetition of the flood of last week.

Riverside, Calif., today faced a shortage of drinking water as a result of the washing out by the flood waters of the Santa Ana river of 600 feet of water mains carrying the city's supply.

The storm today is gradually moving eastward and more favorable conditions for the Pacific coast are predicted.

ARKANSAS FLOOD

Will Be Held Back But Predicted Rivers Will Overflow Levees.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Little Rock, Jan. 29.—The Mississippi river, already ten feet above flood stage at Arkansas City, will go higher by February 10, and the crests of the floods in the Arkansas and White rivers will be held back, according to predictions here upon the duration of the floods in this state. River men and weather records say that not for a quarter of a century has there been so much water as now in all streams of the state.

Rain throughout the state last night added to the danger because there have been two days of almost incessant precipitation.

The crest of the flood in the Arkansas river is expected to reach Little Rock Sunday. The stage of 27 feet predicted here will be the (Continued on Page 10, Col. 2.)

MINERS

Reaffirm Their Opposition to Program of Preparedness for War

GO ON RECORD TO THIS EFFECT

Four Resolutions Denouncing Such Plans

DELEGATES ARE PLEASED

With Agreement Reached That Will Be Presented to Operators for Wage Increase and Confidence Expressed That Operators Will Conclude a Satisfactory Agreement.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America today virtually reaffirmed the action it took yesterday when it went on record as approving the attitude of John P. White, president of the union who in his biennial report condemned preparedness and declared that he was "fully convinced that the men of labor are unalterably opposed to the whole scheme of preparedness which means war."

The subject came before the convention when the committee on resolutions reported four resolutions denouncing preparedness.

The committee reported that inasmuch as the convention has already approved Mr. White's remarks there was no necessity to take action on the resolutions. Before a motion was put and carried to accept the report of the resolutions committee, S. W. Savage of Columbus, Ohio, secretary of the Ohio Miners, called attention to a report published in the press a week ago in which Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was quoted as saying that organized labor was in favor of preparedness.

Mr. Savage said he wished to deny that the coal miners branch of organized labor was in favor of preparedness.

General satisfaction was expressed today by the delegates to the convention of the United Mine Workers of America with the demands agreed upon yesterday to be presented to the coal operators in the negotiations for new wage agreements this year. Miners were well pleased when they learned ten per cent would be asked for the soft coal miners and twenty per cent for men paid by the day.

There was also a feeling of confidence among the mine workers of both the anthracite and bituminous fields that the operators will conclude a satisfactory agreement. The mine workers point to the fact that there has been no change in wages in the anthracite fields for four years and virtually none in the bituminous districts of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other states in the same time.

Anthracite men are hoping they will not only receive an advance in wages but will be able to negotiate an agreement for not more than two years.

LUSITANIA

Incident Remains in Situation and United States

WILL MAKE NO FURTHER MOVE

Until Berlin Sends Answer to Recent Note

LANSING DENIES REPORT

That There Has Been Time Limit Set for February Fifth, Or That There Has Been Any Other Negotiations in Regard to Demand for a Disavowal of Liner's Sinking.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Jan. 29.—Secretary Lansing today denied published reports that the United States had given Germany until February 5 to make a definite answer as to whether it intends to disavow the sinking of the Lusitania.

At the state department it was declared that the Lusitania negotiations remain just where they stood early in the week when Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador transmitted to Berlin a new draft of the proposed agreement which embodied all the points for which the United States contends.

There could be no new move, officials declared, until the German foreign office had passed upon it. The new draft was made by Count Von Bernstorff immediately after a conference with Secretary Lansing and is understood to provide that Germany shall disavow the destruction of the ship and acknowledge as a matter of law the rights of the neutrals who were lost. On this point the state department is understood to be very firm.

Secretary Lansing flatly denied that any date had been set as the limit for Germany's reply. Other state department officials declared they had no indication of when they would hear from Berlin.

While all officials are declining to discuss the Lusitania negotiations, the impression prevails among those who are in position to know of the progress of the exchanges that Germany has been informed that the United States wants the controversy settled without unnecessary delay. The continued failure to close up the negotiations might be construed, it was said as surrounding the situation with a degree of seriousness which, however, could not be described as critical. Count Von Bernstorff in his last communication to Berlin is believed to have informed his government that the state department was pressing for a prompt settlement.

MCKINLEY EULOGY, ON HIS BIRTHDAY, GIVEN IN WASHINGTON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Jan. 29.—All of official Washington wore carnation blossoms today in honor of the late President McKinley's birthday. In the house where Representative Foss of Illinois delivered an eulogy of the martyred president, practically every member and employee wore a flower.

At a dinner of the Ohio society to-night, former Vice President Fairbanks will be the principal speaker.

STATE OFFICIALS WORE CARNATIONS HONORING MCKINLEY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Jan. 29.—The statue of Wm. McKinley at the High street entrance to the Capitol square was enshrouded with a great bunch of red carnations today, to commemorate McKinley's birthday anniversary.

Gov. Willis and other state officials wore carnations which were sold to them by small boys and girls for the benefit of the Salvation Army. Eight year old Mary Hamilton of Columbus, had the governor for an audience when she called at the executive offices to "speak a piece" on McKinley.

BROUGHT PILLOW FOR DRUNK WHO FELL IN STREET

Zanesville, Jan. 29.—When Nick Burkhardt toppled over in the middle of the somewhat out-of-the-way Bluff street yesterday, kindly old lady who saw him brought out a feather pillow to rest his head on and sheltered him from the drizzling rain with a piece of carpet. She thought his inability to get up was due to a severe injury. When someone whispered to her "the police are coming," he "but was caught several squares" by the cops. His clothing saturated with the grime of the pillow. A charge of drunkenness was placed against him.

Confession of Bandit Mack in Chicago Indicates a Plot to Discredit City Government

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Chicago, Jan. 29.—Charges that criminals are being brought from New York, and other cities to commit crimes in Chicago for the purpose of discrediting the state's attorney's office and the city administration are to be investigated by a special grand jury called today, according to officials. In an alleged confession, made public late last night, Eddie Mack, alias Joseph Stewart, known to police as a pickpocket, and charged with leading the bandits who robbed the Washington Park National Bank of $15,000, is said to have revealed a plot to discredit city and county officials and the police department.

According to the state's attorneys office at least six police officers are implicated by Mack's Confession.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Johnson, Jr., said the grand jury probably would be asked to return indictments immediately against Mack, Charles and Harry Kramer, Alexander Brodie and Harry Feine, who were taken into custody yesterday charged with robbery. The jury, Mr. Johnson said, also would investigate the possibility that the men were involved in the robbery of the Cook Tourist Agency, and the resultant murder of Policeman Bror Johnson.

With the alleged confession of Mack and the Kramer brothers, that they robbed the Washington Park Bank, the authorities today are paying special attention to reputed importation of criminals to discredit the administration. The Kramers were quoted as having said they were intimates of the Rosenthal murderers in New York.

The confession, according to Mr. Hoynes, was made by Eddie Mack, said to have come here from New York and believed to be the leader of the gang. He implicated four others as his companions, namely, Harry Kramer, alias Harry Feine; Charles Kramer, alias Burns, alias Byrnes, alias "Big Polly," owner of a West Side saloon, and Alex Brodie.

They were not "baby bandits," as at first suspected. The speedy solution of the robbery came like a rainbow to the police after a long spell of bad weather. For two years State's Attorney Hoynes at intervals has been sending detectives and police officers to prison for protecting criminals. Recently Captain John Halpin, Nicholas Hunt's predecessor as chief of detectives, was convicted. Twelve hundred more policemen were needed, and, in their absence, the regular winter campaign of the bandits went on.

MAD GUNMAN

SHOT FOUR PERSONS IN STREET AT ALBANY, N. Y., YESTERDAY.

Police Believe He Was Expert Marksman Shooting Through His Overcoat Pocket.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The residence districts of the city were today dotted with extra policemen and detectives searching for the mad gunman who late yesterday afternoon and last evening shot four persons in the street. Three of the victims were shot through the back and one through the side with a revolver either equipped with a silencing device, or fired through the pocket of a heavy ulster the man wore. Of the four shot two heard muffled reports and the other two were not aware they had been injured until they fell in the street from weakness. The police believe they have to cope with an expert marksman who shoots through his pocket.

Tuberculosis Hospital May Be Erected at Black Hand By Commissioners of 4 Counties

County Commissioners Jos. H. Orr, Frank R. Dumm and Orville Kiger were at Black Hand today with county commissioners from Muskingum, Coshocton and Perry counties, inspecting sites for a proposed tuberculosis hospital to be erected by the four counties.

This afternoon all of the commissioners met with Dr. H. H. Shirer, secretary of the state board of charities and Dr. Robert G. Patterson of the state board of health, in the commissioners' room at the court house, a joint conference being held to discuss plans for the erection of the buildings in order that they might meet with state requirements.

While no definite action has been taken in the matter the hospital or sanatorium will undoubtedly be erected during the spring and summer. The county commissioners were addressed by Dr. Patterson on the treatment of tuberculosis, the doctor being the director of the division of public health education and tuberculosis. Dr. Shirer has had a great deal of experience in state charity work and the conference today resulted in the imparting of much information to the county officers.

Should Black Hand be chosen as the site of the proposed sanatorium it probably would be erected on one of the hill tops in that vicinity. Each county would erect its own cottages and there would be a central or administration building, in which the dining room would be located together with wings for kitchen and also a general hospital ward.

Black Hand would be an ideal place for the institution as it is within a half mile of the pike, a fourth of a mile from the B. & O. station, a little over a mile from the Pennsylvania station and the Ohio Electric Interurban station, is right below the hills. There is an abundance of natural gas, the atmosphere is pure and wholesome, and a better location could not be chosen.

At the present time Licking county has eight charity patients in the state sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, the cost to the county being $40 per week. Patients have to await their turn as that institution is crowded at the present time. The need of such a hospital for this vicinity is pressing and it would be a public benefaction should it be erected.

It must also be understood that the proposed hospital is not built as a charity institution. Patients who could afford to pay would be expected to do so. Those who have no means and would be unable to pay would be accepted as charity patients as there is a law which compels the counties of the state to care for their tuberculosis victims, where the latter are not able to do so financially themselves.

PRESIDENT

I would be ashamed of the passion of fear.

"America does not desire anything other than freedom, justice and right conduct."

The president also advised against taking the advice of professional sailors and soldiers on some questions.

It is time that we attempted, at any rate, to apply the standards of our own life to national defense. What do we want to defend? Need I answer. We want to defend the equal right of the nation as against all other nations and we wish to maintain the peace of the western hemisphere.

"Did you ever stop to reflect just what it is that America stands for? She stands for the sovereignty of the self-governing peoples of the world. Our aim, our assistance, our encouragement has thrived two continents in this western hemisphere. This is what we stand for."

"It seems to me that America is in wrong with efficiency. Material efficiency of which we hear so much only underlies, however, what I may call spiritual efficiency."

"I for my part have a great enthusiasm for rendering America spiritually efficient. The plans for our military efficiency do not provide for a great army. We want only an army necessary for the uses of peace but we want back of that army a trained body of men. These men should be civilians, men who know that the arts of peace come before the arts of war."

"The details of the army plans do not make any difference. Perhaps others have better plans. But I do want an adequate and efficient force of at least 500,000 men trained to the arts of war who will be ready to protect the nation."

"This nation will not be stalked by ghosts and fancies. I am proposing something more than temporary. It is my conviction that as the government has encouraged agricultural training, it should also encourage industrial training and it is perfectly feasible along with industrial training to instruct our young men in the mechanism and handling of a rifle and guns in the rudimentary arts of warfare—instruct them and at the same time quicken and embellish the performance of the tasks of peace."

"But we can't take the time now to develop and encourage these things. We must train and equip at once a very considerable body of men."

"The test of preparedness does not lie in congress. It is going to be in the response of the young men of the country to the call of volunteer and of the employers of those men to place no obstacle to their answering the call. I for one believe both the young men and the employers will do their duty. But there are many selfish influences at work in this country. When it comes, however, to the test I believe America can produce as much substantial patriotism as any other land under the sun."

The president's words were marked frequently by applause. He spoke rapidly, but clearly.

"I am not afraid of debate. I am not afraid that out of it we will not get results. I am talking myself and certainly the other fellow should have his chance."

"I am sorry this is a campaign year. I hope this question will not be a partisan question. No man should attempt to make political capital out of it. I will be ashamed of any friends of mine who take a different view."

Republicans and Democrats have many differences but there is no reason why they should differ on this issue. Both parties are patriotic.

The president spoke of the effects of the war to show the difficulties facing America. This is a campaign year. I hope this question will not be a partisan question. No man should attempt to make political capital out of it. I will be ashamed of any friends of mine who take a different view.

Republicans and Democrats have many differences but there is no reason why they should differ on this issue. Both parties are patriotic.

is hard to turn them from their purposes. It has been very difficult to maintain peace, but I am the friend of peace. There have been hourly dangers. Often it has been impossible to control the situation because others were involved.

"As your responsible servant, I must tell you the dangers are constant. I must go out and tell the people that new circumstances have arisen which make it necessary that America defend itself."

The president spoke these words slowly and solemnly amid deafening silence. When he concluded the portion of his address the applause was marked.

"We should be prepared," continued the president, "not for war or anything that smacks of aggression, but for adequate national defense."

"I am not afraid that America will not do enough. I am only earnestly desirous that she should be very coolly considerate of what she does. One cool judgment is worth a thousand hasty counsels. The thing to do is to supply light and not heat."

"Americans were born into the world to do service and no man is a true American who does not seek to serve mankind."

"I believe that the night of America was oppressive any free man in the world. I would wish America to be weak. But I do not believe that. I believe that the night of America is the night of a righteous purpose the night of a true people seeking to serve mankind."

"Now as never before, I am stirred by the sight of our flag flying over the flag of the United States. That flag was originally stained in very precious blood spilled not to uphold any dynasty, not as an incident of small controversy, but in order that a little body of three million men in America might make sure that no man was their master. And as this nation has accumulated wealth and population there have arisen all through its history men who have called upon the trustees of that flag to maintain its high purpose."

"And now, in conclusion, let me say that I do not want you merely to listen to speeches. I want you to become active partisans for national defense. I do not want you to go home and merely say 'the President seems to be a good fellow.' I want you to realize deeply that the people must be prepared."

"Out of what seems to be an intricate debate a grand plan of national defense, I believe will result. A plan, I trust, of real adequate national preparedness."

The president later spoke to an overflow meeting composed principally of women.

The galleries and every available foot of space were occupied.

The president declared women were as much interested in national defense as the men. But women, he added, often were closer to the heart of a nation than men who are absorbed in business and other pursuits.

"In the home," he continued, "the women are able to feel the pulse of the nation. The old cry for the defense of the hearth and the home was not particularly inspiring for it is easy to fight for one's own. But it is harder to fight for the people as a whole or a government."

"I suppose that as the women of a country live they must feel the things that pulse about them. The flagstands for something for which we are all trustees."

"America stands for the right of the people to determine who shall govern them. Anyone who interferes with that right must expect us to defend our rights. America also stands for the protection of her people at home and abroad."

"Nobody supposes that if we have time enough we can not defend ourselves. But now the world is on fire. We cannot control the fire and can not govern its spread. I do not believe the fire will touch us but we must be ready to meet it."

"So far we have held difficulty at arms length by patience and I hope we will continue to do so."

"People tell me I must maintain peace and also the honor of the country. Perhaps I shall not be able to do both. I see no immediate danger but you must be ready if trouble comes. I want every one of you to stand behind the government in what it is doing for the national defense."

Explaining his army plans, the president said that the nation must have a body of civilians familiar with camp life and sanitation, the use of arms, and the rudiments of military training.

He opposed a large standing army because he said a large standing army brings about the desire to use it. He begged that the administration defense plans not be confused with militarism.

"What I am pleading for is a revival of that great spirit of patriotism which marked the revolution," he said.

President Wilson's train left Pittsburgh for Cleveland at 2:16 p. m.

President Wilson reached Pittsburgh at 9:40 a. m.

The president's special stopped at the Shadyside station, four miles east of the city proper so that he might elude the crowds which the police felt would be awaiting him at the union station. He was met by a committee of business men who escorted him to his hotel.

A scattering crowd gathered him as he rode in a sprinkle of rain through the streets. Care had been taken not to disclose the station at which he would leave the train and the crowd awaiting him at Shadyside was consequently small.

After reaching the hotel, the president and his wife held an informal reception to which were bidden members of the committee, some of the city's leading men and two men who had been appointed a committee to accompany the president to Soldiers' Memorial hall where the president was due to begin his address at 1 o'clock. The program called for another address to an overflow meeting in the same building.

The president and Mrs. Wilson lunched in their suite, in keeping with their predetermined plan not to attend any public luncheons or dinners during the tour.

After the committee had departed the president planned to spend the remainder of the forenoon in preparing notes of his addresses here and in Cleveland tonight.

Notwithstanding the unusual activities of yesterday in Washington, and the fact that he had spent three consecutive nights on the train, the president rose refreshed. He slept well, remained about till eight o'clock and had just finished his breakfast when the train rolled into the station. Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the White House physician, said Mr. Wilson was in good condition for the activities of the week ahead. These include addresses at Cleveland tonight; Milwaukee, Monday; Chicago, Monday night; Des Moines, Tuesday night; Topeka, Wednesday afternoon; Kansas City, Wednesday night; St. Louis, Thursday morning, and many brief addresses from the rear platform of his car in smaller towns.

Shortly after the arrival of the train at the hotel, Mrs. Wilson, accompanied by Dr. Grayson, went for an hour's automobile ride through the parks and residential section of the city.

AT CLEVELAND

Arrangements May Be Made for an Overflow Meeting Tonight.

(Associated Press Telegram) Cleveland, Jan. 29.—Chamber of commerce officials here and William J. Flynn, chief of the United States secret service, were in communication today with President Wilson in an effort to arrange for him to speak to an overflow meeting following his scheduled address on national defense before the chamber of commerce tonight.

Mr. Flynn, upon his arrival here last night to arrange for proper protection for the presidential party during their tarry over Sunday, here ascertained that thousands of Clevelanders who wish to hear the president speak on his preparedness plans will be unable to do so unless an overflow meeting is held. For Gray's armor, where his address to the chamber will be given, seats only 2500 and tickets have been restricted to chamber members.

If the weather is good it is hoped the president will consent to talk for a few minutes from the balcony of a downtown hotel, where he will stop while here. The Wilson party will arrive at seven o'clock over the Pennsylvania railroad from Pittsburgh and will be met by a party of chamber of commerce officers and escorted to his hotel. Two hundred policemen and a squad of detectives and federal secret service men will guard the route from the station to the hotel.

The village innkeeper had been persuaded to lend a customer a pair of black trousers for funeral solemnities. The sad occasion was long gone, weeks had passed away, and still Mr. J. looked in vain for the return of his garments. They became urgently necessary, and he sent a messenger to demand them back again.

Said the messenger to the wrongful detainer of the goods: "Mr. J. must have 'em. He's going to a funeral."

"They won't do for a funeral," was the reply. "I've been workin' at the quarry in 'em."

"What will Mr. J. do, then?" asked the messenger.

"Why, borrow a pair," replied the other, "same as what I did."—London Tit-Bits.

Largest Hydraulic Lift Lock. The largest hydraulic lift lock in the world is at Peterborough, Canada. It consists of two great steel boxes or pontoons, moving up and down between guiding towers. When a boat moves into one of the two pontoons the lock gates are closed behind it, and water is pumped into the other pontoon until it becomes heavier than that containing the boat, which then, being overweighted, rises bodily into the air until it reaches the level of the upper canal. The boats are lifted a total distance of sixty-five feet, the gates and pontoons being operated entirely by hydraulic power. The time of lockage for boats is about twelve minutes, the actual time of the vertical lift being one and one-half minutes.—St. Nicholas.

Be Prepared. Daniel Webster once told a friend that his great speech in reply to Hayne, which is the high water mark of modern eloquence, but which at the time was supposed to have been delivered without preparation, had been substantially prepared long before. When called upon suddenly to reply to the fiery Carolinian's attacks, which so alarmed the New Englanders at the capital, he was entirely at ease and ready for the fray, for, as he said, he had "only to turn to his notes tucked away in a pigeonhole" and refresh his recollection. "If Hayne," he said, "had tried to make a speech to fit my notes he could not have hit them better. No man is inspired by the occasion. I never was."

The Liberty Boys. The name of Liberty Boys is the name by which the Sons of Liberty of the American Revolution were familiarly known. They were the men who fought the first battles of the colonists, who opposed the stamp act and participated in the Boston tea party. A flag hoisted upon the flagstaff that stood beside Liberty tree, in Hanover square, Boston, was the signal at which they assembled.

LIFT EMBARGO; B. & O. TO SHIP EXPORT CORN

(Associated Press Telegram)

Baltimore, Jan. 29.—The Baltimore and Ohio, it was announced today, that effective January 31, the road will remove its embargo on corn shipments for export through Baltimore which originated on connecting lines west of Pittsburgh, Bell and Parkersburg.

The embargo against shipments of grain for export through Baltimore was placed December 14, since which time it has been modified with respect to points on the B. & O. lines. The action taken today is the first modification of the embargo as affecting connecting lines.

The Grand Teton. The view of the Teton peaks from Ashton, Ida., is superb and doubtless has been the inducement for many a tourist and sportsman to leave the main line for the Teton range and the Jackson Hole country in pursuit of elk, sheep, trout and unsurpassed mountain scenery. Owen Wister's "Virginian" was glad to get out of these mountains because, as he explained, "they're most too big."

The average American, who has only a vague conception of the natural beauties of the Rocky mountains and ranges, that real alpine forms are found only in Switzerland, must be surprised when he first sees the lofty peaks of the Teton. Even a man who has climbed the Matterhorn would think twice before daring to try Grand Teton. According to local report, this peak has been ascended only twice, in 1872 and 1904. As the snowclad mountains along the Alaskan archipelago, rising to cloud reaching heights, stand with their feet bathed in the ocean, so from a viewpoint near Ashton the Teton, towering to the sky, rise from the billowy surface of a sea of golden grain.—Geological Survey Bulletin.

Howard and Prison Fever. Typhus, which under the name of "prison fever" was once rampant in England, held no terrors for John Howard, the prison reformer. While in a cell he would hold to his nose a vial of aromatic vinegar and on going home would wash and change his clothes, though even these precautions he later abandoned. People thought his powers bordered on the magical, and he later abandoned. People thought his powers bordered on the magical, and he later abandoned. People thought his powers bordered on the magical, and he later abandoned.

KNEE SHATTERED BY COLT'S KICK; MAN IN HOSPITAL

Ralph Plasterer, 45 years old, well known living at Fredonia, is in the City Hospital suffering from a shattered knee cap as a result of a kick by a colt Thursday afternoon. Plasterer was on his way to the oil field, driving the colt hitched to a car. The animal became frightened, started to kick and Plasterer was struck on the knee. Dr. C. J. Loveless of Granville was called. Last night the Bradley ambulance brought the man to the hospital here for treatment.

The ambulance experienced considerable difficulty in getting the man into the city because of the horrible condition of the roads but the trip was finally completed after much trouble.

A year or more ago, Plasterer lost the sight of one eye in an accident.

NEWARK HIGH SLOW IN STARTING; TEAM LOST TO MT. VERNON

Newark High school's basketball team was defeated last night at Mt. Vernon by a score of 31 to 16, in a game which was featured by the slow work of the Newark boys in the first half. The boys did show that they knew what a basketball was used for, when they came to life in the second half and held Mt. Vernon to 5 points and scored 12 points themselves.

The Newark team has speed and ability but it usually takes the players about 20 minutes to wake up. If the opposition is slow in running up a score in the first half, Newark stands good chances to win. Otherwise their defeat is certain.

Last night's game was clean, only six fouls being called in the forty minutes of play. It was witnessed by the largest crowd ever assembled there and even then many were turned away.

Lawrence Beecher, formerly of this city, now located at Mt. Vernon, refereed the game.

The lineup: Newark—Mt. Vernon D. Jones, rf. Blair, rf. Rawlings, lf. Eastman, lf. F. Jones, c. Sapp, c. McLaughlin, rg. Cunningham, rg. Thorp, lg. Jones, lg. Summary: Field goals—Rawlings, 2; Mayer, 1; Jones, 4; Blair, 2; Eastman, 8; Sapp, 5. Foul goals—Blair, 1; Rawlings, 2. Substitutions: Newark—George Mayer and Charles Mavor. Mt. Vernon—Coyle Walton Masteller and Yauger. Referee—Lawrence Beecher.

FIFTY STUDENTS GO WITH DENISON TO DELAWARE

Granville, O., Jan. 29.—If last night's practice has even the slightest values as indicating the result of Denison's game with Wesleyan at Delaware Saturday evening, the Wesleyan team has the game won already. In an hour of final preparation, Livingston's quintet showed the poorest work of the season. Such important things as basket shooting, passing team-work, dribbling, and inside basket ball were conspicuously absent.

Thiele, Denison's main scoring hope, has not recovered his erstwhile faultless prowess. Three fielders were all he could toss last night against Sherburne, second string center. Lang and Menkins failed to show much at the forwards, while the second string tossers marched through Ladd and Stankard at guards with fair success.

The second team was well ahead at half time, but in the second half the regulars almost came up even. In an effort to bolster prospects of the "Big Red" five, Shorney, half-back, of the eleven, has joined the quintet. He has been making fast progress this week.

Students gathered in mass meeting here to arouse interest in the Wesleyan struggle. About 50 will support their colors at Delaware.

SPRINGFIELD LANDS A BERTH IN CENTRAL LG.

Ft. Wayne, Jan. 29.—The Central league in 1916 will be composed of Terre Haute, Evansville and South Bend, Ind.; Dayton and Springfield, O.; Grand Rapids and Muskegon, Mich., and Wheeling, W. Va. This was decided at the meeting of the league here yesterday when forfeits were posted to guarantee the completion of the season. South Bend, Muskegon and Springfield fill the places of the Erie, Youngstown and Ft. Wayne clubs, which failed to post forfeits.

A 120-game schedule, opening May 1 and closing Labor Day, was decided upon. President E. W. Dickerson announced that the schedule will be adopted at a meeting in March in Muskegon, Mich.

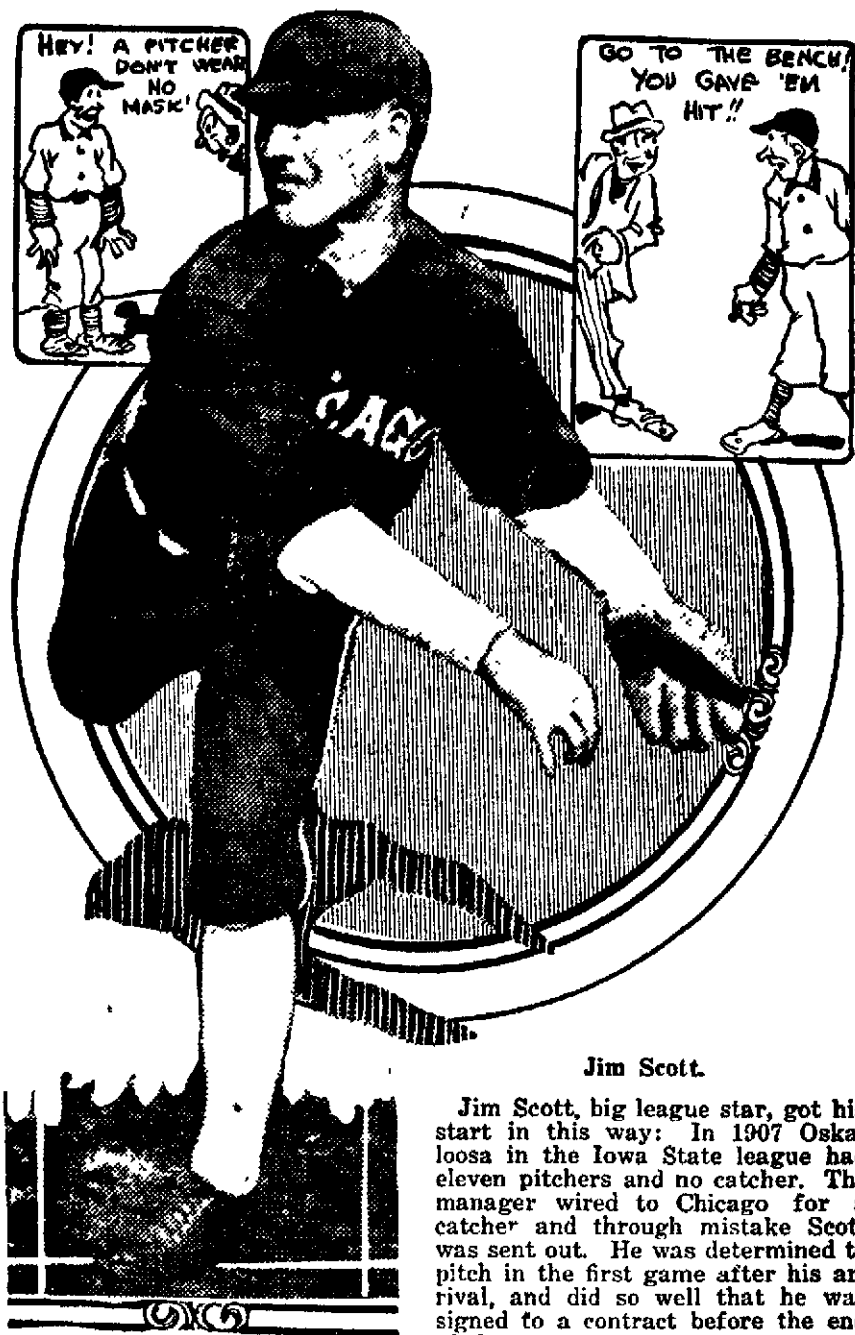

FRED FULTON GETS DECISION IN BOUT WITH PORKY FLYNN

New Orleans, La., Jan. 29.—Fred Fulton was awarded a referees' decision in the scheduled 20-round bout with "Porky" Flynn at a local theater last night. He was the aggressor throughout, although his fighting made a good showing in the ring.

In the fourth round Fulton was knocked to his knees and in the twelfth was sent down by his hands and knees. Flynn was knocked to the ropes in the eighth. Easy recoveries were made by both men.

Fulton weighed in at 220 pounds before the fight and Flynn at 222. Jim Coffey and Frank Moran challenged the winner.

HOW JIM SCOTT GOT BASEBALL START

Jim Scott.

Jim Scott, big league star, got his start in this way: In 1907 Oskaloosa in the Iowa State league had eleven pitchers and no catcher. The manager wired to Chicago for a catcher and through mistake Scott was sent out. He was determined to pitch in the first game after his arrival, and did so well that he was signed to a contract before the end of the game.

ENTRIES IN BIG TOURNAMENT ARE BEING RECEIVED

Delaware, Jan. 29.—Entries for Ohio Wesleyan interscholastic high school basketball tournament, to be held in Edwards gymnasium the first three weeks in March, are coming in steadily and the tourney this year promises to excel all former ones. Several schools, including East Palestine, Frankfort and West High of Columbus, have signified their intention of entering their teams. The entries of Findlay, Newark and Mansfield, always strong contenders for the championship, have been made already.

The teams from the northern half of the state will play on the first Friday and Saturday of March while at the following week end the teams from the southern part of Ohio will compete. On the third Friday and Saturday of March the winners of each division will return when the championship of the state will be decided.

The Capitol Dome.
The capitol dome at Washington is the only considerable dome of iron in the world. It is a vast hollow sphere weighing 8,000,300 pounds. How much is that? More than 4,000 tons, or almost the weight of 70,000 full grown persons, or about equal to 1,000 laden coal cars of four tons each, which, if strung out one behind the other, would occupy a mile and a half of track. On the very top of the dome the allegorical figure "America," weighing 13,985 pounds, lifts its proud head high in the air. The pressure of this dome and figure upon the piers and pillars is 14,477 pounds to the square foot. It would, however, require a pressure of 755,236 pounds to the square foot to crush the supports.

Appropriate.
Lord Dunraven in his younger days, when he was known as Lord Adare, speculated in theatrical enterprises, but his success in this direction was not unfortunately equal to his enthusiasm. One day a certain well known wit was asked to give a title to one of his lordship's plays.

"Well," he answered, "why not call it Robin Adair?"

Mental Dyspepsia.

Russian Wolfhounds.
The swiftest dog in the world, the borzoi, or Russian wolfhound, has made record runs that show seventy-five feet in a second, while the gazelle has shown measured speed of more than eighty feet a second, which would give it a speed of 4,800 feet in a minute if the pace could be kept up.

Bargains in the Wants tonight.

Right, but Wrong.

The late Professor Thomas R. Lounsbury of Yale, speaking at Cambridge, England, on the proper use of English, according to the Philadelphia Bulletin, said:

"But precision can be carried too far. The ultra precise, even when logically right, are really wrong."

"An ultra precise professor went into a hardware shop and said, 'Show me a shears, please.'"

"You mean a pair of shears, don't you?" said the dealer.

"No," said the professor; "I mean what I say. I mean a shears."

"The dealer took down a box of shears."

"Look here, professor," he said, "aren't there two blades here? And don't two make a pair?"

"Well, you've got two legs. Does that make you a pair of men? And the professor smiled at the dealer triumphantly through his spectacles."

"He was logically right," said Professor Lounsbury, "but really he was wrong."

Girls in Korea.

Girls in Korea have no names or what would be considered names in the western world. There are no Marys or Mabels or Ruths. The little ones are given pet names at their birth, and these they bear until they are ten years old, after which they are no longer used. After her tenth birthday the young woman is known as "Mr. Kim's daughter" or "Mr. Kim's girl baby." The latter title is considered the more honorable.

If there are several daughters in the family they are distinguished by such words as "big" (for the eldest), "second," "third," "fourth," etc. After marriage they are known by their husband's name and title, with the word "house" affixed. They may also be distinguished by the name of the place from which they came when marrying, as "Mrs. of the House of Kim, the young lady who came from Kong Jo."

Home Is—

Where you wish you were about twenty times a day when you are away from it.

Where you got three square meals a day and didn't appreciate them.

Where you can use the shower bath any time you want it.

Where you can step across the hall wearing a Turkish towel and a cake of soap without fear of seven or eight people seeing you.

Where you don't have to dress for dinner.

Where you don't have to tip some one every two hours.

Where the view isn't much, but the food and beds and company and general environments have got it all over any other spot on the map.

Where you go when all the other places are closed.—Boston Herald.

Pepys at a Feast.

Pepys' account of the lord mayor's banquet which he attended in 1663 illustrates the earliness of the proceedings at that time. He made his way to the Guildhall at noon; "went up and down to see the tables" and then had a drink, refusing wine in consequence of a vow, but persuading his conscience that he might indulge in hippocras, a compound of wine and spices. Soon after 1 o'clock came the lord mayor, "and so all to dinner." Afterward Pepys strolled about the ladies' room, but could not discern one handsome face there and, "being wearied with looking upon a company of ugly women," went off to Cheapside to see the pageants, "which were very silly." Thus the lord mayor's show in those days came after dinner.—London Standard.

She denied telling the police officials after she was taken into custody today that "the doctor was a terrible man."

Checkers.

The German name for the game of checkers or draughts is "damenbrett"—ladies' board—probably "damen" for short. Some form of "dame" is used in almost every country where the game is played, except the English speaking countries, and the Scots still speak of the "dambrod." "Dames" was the name in England for a time, and we find it in an English book toward the end of Elizabeth's reign. The first use of the word draughts in existing literature is about 1400. At a later day "checkers" became another name, and this went to America with the early English emigrants and there became the usual name. In England in the sixteenth century the game had three names—"dames," "draughts" and "checkers." At an earlier period "check-erie," "chequer," etc., had been English names for chess.—London Mirror.

Snails Are Queer Creatures.

The snail is found everywhere, over 3,000 species being known. Some of the large tropical snails, as buliminas, form nests of leaves, their eggs being as large as a pigeon's. The snail is extremely skillful in mending its shell, and some curious experiments may be made with them. Thus I have seen a helix of a yellow species attached to another shell of a reddish hue by cutting off the top whorl of the latter, when the snail will proceed to weld the two shells together and occupy both, using the addition as a door and possibly wondering at this sudden extension of its house. In the winter some of the snails hibernate or lie dormant until warm weather. A snail of the Philippine Islands has a faculty of throwing off its tail when seized. This is also true of a West Indian variety, stenophus.—London Telegraph.

Euclid's Lost Books.

"I was very much amused at the comment of a young friend who recently went up against the board of examiners for the naval service," said a Philadelphia man. "Speaking of the questions in geometry which were propounded to the boys, this youngster said in a dry way:

"History tells us that the old discoverer of the science of geometry, Euclid, who lived 300 years before Christ, wrote something like twenty books, which he called 'Elements,' and that of this number seven were lost. The examining board of the marine corps has found those books, for the questions it put to us two weeks ago clearly demonstrated that it dug up some theorems which had not been seen in the last 2,000 years."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Repelling Fire With a Drum.

A fire of a strange nature appeared in Wales in 1693. According to the most intelligible account concerning it now in existence, it came up from the sea near Harlech. At several places near that place and all over Merionethshire it did much damage, burning hay, houses, barns, etc. A person writing of it said: "The grass over which it moves kills all manner of cattle that feed upon it. But what is most remarkable is that any great noise, such as the beating of a drum or sounding of a horn, effectually repels it from any house."

Excusable.

Acid in Stomach Sours the Food

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid Is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food for fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

ESTABLISHED IN 1820

Entered as Second Class Matter
March 10, 1882, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under Act of March 4, 1879.

It is claimed the navy is deficient in gun practice, but no one has claimed the sailor boys don't keep up with the new dance steps.

You can't convince the people of Georgia that trees aren't valuable, when one of them has just come in so handy to hang five negroes on.

The rise in price of potatoes has added to the cost of boarding house hash and meat stew a good deal more than the advance in meat ever did.

If people did not do such careless things there would be fewer Carnegie hero medals to distribute, and more of the heroes would be left alive.

The crowd at the farmers institute may show up a superfluity of whiskers, but a convention of business or professional men would be a much more favorable place for selling wildcat mining stock.

Better Business Education.

The United States Commissioner of Education has asked Congress for a small appropriation for work for improvement of commercial education. It is claimed that while the high school pupils are taking commercial work, that form of education is overshadowed in public mind and is neglected.

As fast as one army of stenographers and book-keepers is turned out, a lot get married or quit work, and a new horde of more or less untrained successors comes along. Competence can not be acquired without long practice, but good work in schools would teach some fundamentals of business life that may never grasp.

Probably the first principle to be insisted on in business education is accuracy. There are a hundred ways of making a mistake and only one correct method. General intelligence counts very high in a business office. The good business woman will read the newspapers and trade papers more than popular novels. If the government can do anything to promote accuracy and general intelligence among commercial students, it will accomplish something that business men feel the need of.

Dogs and Babies.

A society note telegraphed around the country from Palm Beach was to the effect that a bet had been made that there are more dogs than babies among the society crowd at that resort. The latest score given in the paper named 20 dogs and only eight babies.

Is this an indication of the relative interest in dogs and babies among the high society elements of the most fashionable centers? Dogs certainly possess many advantages. They can be so trained that they never annoy anyone by untimely barking, while no amount of education can prevent athletic babies from yelling at the most untimely hours.

Also dogs show within a short time

Why Democrats Get Beaten.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The common notion among Republicans that the country is overwhelmingly Protectionist, and will always beat the Democrats if the tariff issue is kept to the fore, betrays a childish ignorance of our political history from the period of reconstruction to the present. It is only when the Democrats allow some other issue to displace the tariff that they get beaten.

From 1874 to 1892, both included, 10 Houses of Representatives were chosen, and eight of them, four-fifths of the whole number, were controlled by the Democrats. During nearly the whole of that period the tariff was the principal issue. During that period the Presidential elections occurred in 1876, 1880, 1884, 1888 and 1892. The Democrats carried the election of 1876 and were counted out; they carried the elections of 1884 and 1892. Thus the Democrats got the Presidency twice out of five times, and actually elected their candidate three times out of five. How do the Republicans get the extraordinary delusion into their heads that they are usually successful, and it is only by a fluke that the Democrats ever carry an election? The Democrats elected the first two Congresses after the McKinley tariff was enacted. But following 1892 silverism displaced the tariff as the leading issue, and the Democrats had 16 years of unbroken defeat. It was due to the currency, and not the tariff. The currency controversy having been disposed of, the tariff again became the most prominent issue, and the Democrats carried the elections of the House of Representatives in 1910, 1912 and 1914, got enough State Legislatures to give them the control of the Senate, and at the last State elections considerably strengthened their grip on the Senate, and elected their candidate for President in 1912.

The evidence is overwhelming that the Democrats generally carry the elections when the tariff is the leading issue. The Republicans are usually beaten when Protectionism is uppermost in every voter's mind. The Democrats get beaten when they are diverted from the tariff, which is their traditional best card in politics, and succumb to the cheap money dissembler, which they caught from the Populists.

The Republicans ought to be encouraged to make the tariff the sole issue of this year's election. If they will stick to that they will be certain of defeat, as Mr. Schiff told them last week. This country is in favor of a revenue tariff. The taxation of imports is a convenient way of getting a good part of the national revenue. But the country is not in favor of any such scheme of high duties as the tariff beneficiaries, who control the Republican party, insist on getting from the Congressmen and Senators whose campaign expenses they have paid for.

Vehicles of Humor.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

No one appears to be taking the state presidential primaries very seriously. In fact, if the present tendency continues until the pre-convention campaign begins, the primaries are likely to assume rank with the Ford argosy as a type of delicious American humor.

Indiana Republicans have petitioned the name of former Vice President Fairbanks on the primary ballot. In Michigan Henry Ford is an official candidate for the presidential nomination, for which party we forget at the moment. Nebraskans fairly ran to the tent of unwilling candidates to people their ballot. In at least one state Theodore Roosevelt, who is not a Republican and proud of it, has been made a Republican candidate for the presidency.

These state primaries comprise a bizarre collection of diverse legislation, and not much is to be expected of them, apparently. Perhaps, after all, they may as well be used to cultivate our American sense of humor.

Human nature is so prone to deceive itself, in fact, that we shouldn't wonder if even that New York lawyer named Estabrook or something of the kind, who is running for the Presidency on a paid-reading-notice platform, imagined occasionally that he saw the office peering in at the window, looking for him.—Ohio State Journal.

Rippling Rhymes

War Stories.

I'm tired of the stories of battle, that word painters send from the front, of peasants who perish like cattle, perishing the patriots' stunt; I'm tired of the gun and the armor, of all things that slaughter and slay, so tell me a yarn of the farmer who shucks eighty bushels a day.

In lists of the butchered, diurnal, there's nothing I see that enchants; I'm tired of the major and colonel, with blood on their bibs and their pants; I'm tired of the spy and the spoiler, of dead ones that litter the sward; O, tell me a tale of the toiler, who's whacking up wood by the cord, I'm tired of the boys in the trenches, with shoes full of water and loam; far better the plumbers, whose wrenches are fixing the pipes in my home, I've read of movements of legions, I've read of advance and retreat, of ashes and ruin in regions, where once grew the corn and the wheat; and now I am weary of gore, of myriads wounded and bleeding, of hosts who will wake never more, so tell me a tale of the granger who carries his mules in the morn, who digs up the eggs from the manger, and shucks eighty bushels of corn. Fangs of a Snake.

Examine the finest cable needle under a high power microscope and its point will look rough and blunt. A snake's fang similarly inspected appears perfectly smooth and sharp. In each fang is a groove which connects by a tube with a sort of bag—the poison gland—just beneath the eye. When the snake strikes a muscular contraction simultaneously forces the venom out of the bag through the tube and along the groove into the flesh of the person attacked. Snake poison, generally speaking, has two distinct effects. It destroys in some mysterious way the fibrin of the blood, thereby causing the latter to behave as if diluted and to filter through the walls of the veins and arteries. In addition, it paralyzes the nerve centers and so affects the heart, sometimes bringing death by suffocation.

Patti and Her Partners.

The novel manner in which the famous prima donna Patti on one occasion chose her partners at a dance is related by Mr. Leslie Ward in his reminiscences. Mr. Ward went to a certain dance at Lancaster Gate. "Patti," he says, "was sitting in the middle of the room looking angelic and surrounded by a host of admiring men. We were each given a miniature bugle. Patti had one also, on which she sounded a note, and whoever repeated it exactly was to gain her as a partner in the dance. The men advanced in turn. Some blew too high and others too low until one and all gave up in disgust. At last my turn came. I was trembling with eagerness and excitement and determined to dance with Patti or die. I hit the note and gained my waltz, and the applause was great as I carried off my prize."

Jefferson Was a "Sloppy" Dresser.

In dress President Jefferson was governed by comfort rather than by elegance. "Pride costs more than hunger, thirst and cold," he used to say, and as he lived in an epoch that witnessed a mighty revolution in men's clothing as well as in men's government, monarchy's ones and velvets giving way to short hair and the useful, ungainly pantaloons, only the watchfulness of his body servant saved him from unbelievable anachronisms of costume. Indeed, in later life, at Monticello, where this democrat ruled absolute king, he often wore the garments of several different periods together, like superimposed geologic strata or the historic remains in the Roman Forum.—Helen Nicolay in Century Magazine.

The Soft Answer.

The saving sense of humor! "I am filled with disgust and indignation!" began an angry caller on a business man.

Society

Nella Foss Ford writing in the March number of Mother's Magazine, has arranged four "don'ts" which she says might well be conspicuously posted in many a mother's mind. They are:

Don't consider it necessary to systematically underrate your child. Your adult friends will know you do not mean it, but the child will not, and probably more characters are weakened by the lack of self-confidence engendered by such a process than by the vanity which follows the silly bragging of over-fond parents.

Don't think that the moment you are alone with your boy or girl you must find fault or endeavor to improve the occasion by a little moralizing, no matter in how loving a spirit. This is the hardest don't of all, for no one is so anxious to help a child toward perfection as the parent, yet it surely leads to an avoidance of the moments alone together, which should be times of happy confidences.

Don't correct the child before others. Never mind if a well-meaning relative does say, "My dear, I am surprised that you do not show more force of character; your children are suffering from a lack of discipline." Pass the matter over until you and the small offender can have it out alone. If the circumstances are such that it cannot be passed over, take him out of the room.

Lastly, laugh often with, but never at, your child. This takes self-denial, but it pays. Make up your mind that whatever others may say, he can depend upon you for a quick, sure understanding, without quibble or joke at his expense. This does not mean that he must not take his share of harmless fun. It is wholesome, and too much sheltering would make him oversensitive; but the mother who lets her child know that she never makes fun of him will be surprised at the confidence with which he relies upon it.

What Does Catarrh Mean?

It means inflammation of a mucous membrane somewhere in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, biliary ducts or bowels. It always means stagnant blood—the blood that is full of impurities. Left alone, it extends until it is followed by indigestion, colds, congestion or fever. It weakens the system generally and spreads its operations until systemic catarrh or an acute illness is the result.

Peruna

Is the nation's reliable remedy for this condition. It restores appetite, aids digestion, checks and removes inflammation, and thus enables the membranes, through which we breathe and through which our food is absorbed, to do their work properly. Forty-four years of success, with thousands of testimonials have established it as the home remedy—Every-Ready-to-Take. Its record of success holds a promise for you.

ANTI GERMAN RIOTS IN SPITE OF POLICE.

Everybody's Opportunity.

How many people we meet who are living narrow lives, complaining of their lack of opportunity! Take the woman who feels helplessly that she does not know how to think—she has had no chance to study or to meet people of great interests and great purposes. Yet there are libraries—city libraries, country libraries, loan and traveling libraries, with all the wealth of the world's thought and experience, all hers for the taking. She may not know how to think great thoughts herself—comparatively few people do—but through a book she may live with some master mind until his thoughts become a part of her very life. It is not the mere reading of many chapters that starts the life growing.—Youth's Companion.

Epsom Salts as a Dimmer.
Five cents' worth of Epsom salts dissolved in a teaspoonful of water provides the neatest and most efficient "headlight dimmer" for automobiles so far proposed, according to the Scientific American. The solution is used on the inside of the headlight glass, where it is allowed to evaporate. The result is a beautifully frosted lens, the frosting on which lasts for several months.

"All the world loves a lover," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, especially the jeweler, the florist and the confectioner," added the Simple Mug.

There are many earlier records of human affairs, but the first historian now recognized as such was Herodotus, the great Greek, who wrote in the fifth century B. C. "The Old Testament and the Book of Kings are also, of course, among the most ancient of historical works."

The fear of contamination from the books of a public library seems to have been overestimated. The dust gathered during a cleaning of the Yale library was found by chemical analysis to be entirely harmless.

This year will establish a record for the number of messages sent over Swedish telegraph lines.

CARE OF THE BABY IN WINTER

After the Second Year.

When the baby reaches the third year he should be fed four times a day at regular intervals, having the heaviest meal in the middle of the day.

It is of the utmost importance to teach him to chew his food carefully and thus to take plenty of time at his meals. But since his tiny teeth can only partly masticate his food, this should be properly prepared for him. Meat should be cut into small pieces, vegetables either mashed or put through the colander, and all the cores, skins and seeds should be removed from fruits.

He should not be allowed to drink while eating solid food, lest he fall into the habit of washing down his food before it is thoroughly chewed, as do so many of his elders.

The following foods are recommended for children from two to three years; and a daily program is suggested for the convenience of the mothers:

7:30 a. m.: Cereal—Well-cooked oat, wheat or corn preparation, with thin cream or milk and very little sugar. Cereals should be cooked three hours in a double boiler, and flavored with a little salt when being cooked. Glass of whole milk, warmed in the cool months of the year. Egg, soft boiled, poached or coddled. Toast, or dry bread and butter.

10:00 a. m.: Fruit—Use one orange and strain the juice, or a baked apple, and two graham crackers, or warm milk, one glass, with dry bread or toast.

2:00 p. m.: Vegetable Soup—One teaspoonful of meat broth with rice or arrowroot. Meat—Beef, mutton, or chicken, broiled, roasted, or boiled; or fish; cut into small pieces, flavored with a little salt. Use no pepper, sauces or condiments.

Potato—Baked, mashed, with a little salt, butter and milk, or salt and cream; or, boiled rice or spaghetti, both thoroughly cooked; with butter or cream. Green Vegetables—Cabbage, carrots, asparagus, string beans, peas, spinach, young beets, or leuca.

Granville

(Special to Advocate.)
Granville, O., January 29.—Granville is still hopefully awaiting the promised cold wave, but as yet sees little except waves of liquid mud through which a few intrepid drivers occasionally plough their weary way to the pikes, enroute to Newark, Alexandria or Columbus. However, a better time is coming, when Broadway, at least, will emerge from the chaos of mud, trenches, brick and sewer pipe and appear in all her beauty as one of the finest village streets in the country. Weather permitting the work of paving will begin early in the spring.

Miss David Gilmore entertained the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at her home in East Broadway Friday afternoon, January 28, when a most enjoyable and instructive program was presented. Although Mrs. Van Kirk who had been announced as leader, was absent on account of illness, the topic: "State and City Government" was handled by Mrs. William Hawe and Mrs. Gilmore. A recitation by Miss Abbie Davies was a further contribution to the program much enjoyed by the company. At the close a pleasant social hour was spent during which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Gilmore will again open her home on Thursday, February 3rd, for a sale of the work of the Blind, which will be held both afternoon and evening. All who are interested in helping these people should plan to see this exhibition.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

The woman who is so foolish as to go about so heavily laden with scent that she leaves a wake after her, lays herself liable to the suspicion that she is using it for some ulterior purpose, for the habit of men to conceal a suspicious breath with a nibbled clove has its counterpart in the woman who fears unless she is heavily perfumed she may not be sweet scented.

Besides, heavy perfumes hint of vulgarity, bespeak poor taste, and lack of discrimination. The careful and fastidious woman will have none of them.

It is said of the Roman ladies of yore that they indulged to such an extent in strong perfumes that one of their best known senators exclaimed: "The only woman who smells delightfully is the one who doesn't smell of anything." Here, indeed, is a hint for all those who subtly that it can hardly be smelled at all.

A thousand scents crowd into the mind of one at every thought of perfume. Of all of them, that of violet seems to have the first place. Not all of the violets in the world would suffice for the great demand, and so it is well that the delicate and lovely Florentine orris can give this scent to the manufacture of violet perfume.

Roses are cloying, a breath of summer itself, pinks are spicy, the lovely lily of the valley a treasure all of itself. Then there are delicate, purely sweet lavender, the tang of lemon verbena, the languorous sandal wood and many strange and unknown oils and essences.

Albert Franz Jahnke, who died recently in Richmond, Va., had the distinction of being the oldest jeweler in that State, having founded his business in 1852, and conducted it continuously ever since, with only one change in the firm name.

The United Kingdom leads all the countries in the world as a market for the domestic farm and forest products of the United States. During the last 10 years the United Kingdom averaged annually 39 per cent of all farm and forest products exported.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

From the Office of the President.

The plans for "Baby Week" campaign, which are being made throughout the United States, recall the activities which were made in this direction by the City Federation of Toledo some six years ago.

In March of 1910 there was begun a publicity campaign to interest mothers throughout the city in the interest of healthy babies and the disease of infant mortality.

A table of weights was published showing the normal weight of a baby from one week to three years of age. A system of measurements was also published and an interest aroused in the subject which resulted in a Mother's Conference conducted every Saturday from May until November.

Mothers brought their children to the first conference in May and they were weighed, measured and a carefully tabulated history of each baby recorded.

A nurse was sent during the week to the home to interest the mothers in the care of their babies and reports were made at the Saturday conferences.

The conferences consisted of talks by physicians and nurses, examinations of babies for illness or abnormality of any kind and mothers gave experiences in following the advice of physicians and nurses and the results upon the child.

These meetings were well attended and the interest increased throughout the entire summer. At the close of the campaign in October the babies which had been weighed, measured and examined, were again carefully examined, their weight taken and a comparison made of their condition with that of May.

The result proved that it was well worth all the time and effort which the larger expended. In connection with this there was a careful surveillance of the milk supply of the city and pure milk was furnished to many mothers during the time.

Those babies showing the most marked normal improvement were awarded prizes and the crowd attending the closing meeting of the campaign showed the city to be alive to the best interests of the baby in the home.

The South-east District of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs held a most profitable and enjoyable convention at Marietta, January 19. The meeting was graciously and forcefully presided over by the district vice-president, Mrs. Ernest T. Johnson of Newark. Mrs. S. J. Hathaway welcomed the women to Marietta and in a most interesting manner sketched the history of the Women's Centennial Association of which she is president. This organization is the historical club in the Federation.

Mrs. J. L. Herve, formerly Miss Love Smythe of Newark, responded to the welcome (thanking the local women for their gracious hospitality.

Mrs. George Zimmerman of Fremont, president of the State Federation, gave some vital facts concerning the work of the Federation and pointed out the advantages to be gained by affiliation with that organization.

Mrs. Lewis C. Laylin of Columbus, General Federation secretary, made an earnest plea to all clubs to join the larger organization. Mrs. Laylin is an enthusiastic worker and Ohio's delegation at the biennial in New York, will surely show results of her untiring efforts.

Mrs. C. C. Parrey of Columbus, president of Columbus City Federation, read a paper entitled "City Federation Values," which was well received.

An interesting feature of the meeting was a discussion touching upon the interest of the State Federation in our State Institutions for women and children. A great tribute was paid to Mrs. James R. Hopley of Bucyrus, a former president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, who has worked untiringly for the welfare of dependent women and children. Mrs. Hopley was formerly Miss Elizabeth Sheppard of Granville.

Federations of Athens, Lancaster, London, Newark, Portsmouth and Zanesville were represented and made interesting reports. Many of the clubs of the district are planning to observe Baby Week.

A delightful reception was given Tuesday evening, January 18th, in the Historical Museum, honoring the officers and delegates, with members of the Woman's Centennial Association as hostess.

Mrs. Joseph C. Cochran of Parkersburg, W. Va., president of the West Virginia Federation of Women's clubs, was also a guest of honor.

Governor Willis has honored the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs in his appointment of its president, Mrs. George Zimmerman of Fremont, as a delegate to the National Child Labor conference to be held February 3-6 at Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. Esther Cole Jackson of Toledo, who was elected district press of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs at the October convention has been compelled to resign owing to ill health.

Mrs. Zimmerman has induced Mrs. Prentice E. Rood to undertake the work. Mrs. Rood pledges her faithful endeavor to keep the publicity column for the federation to its previous high standard. She solicits the support of all club women who can so easily supply her with interesting events and activities of their various clubs.

Your Boys and Girls

Be sure not to expose a young baby more than is absolutely necessary. Keep warm towels close so you can dry the baby the moment you take him out of his bath. Be sure you have addressed your baby's scalp. After the head and face have been washed and dried take off the clothing and soap the entire body. After the bath and drying, use talcum powder freely.

Dress the baby as quickly as you can or put him quickly to bed. It is well to accustom babies to tepid baths as early as possible.

Every Day Etiquette

"What kind of a gown should a bride wear at a noon wedding?" asked Beth.

"The bride may wear the usual white satin gown, or she may wear the gown in which she intends to travel," said her aunt.

Markets

Weekly Market Summary
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Jan. 19.—An unusual variety of developments contributed to the week's declining movement in securities which was continued and rested yesterday. Liquidation for foreign accounts and fresh commitments by the short interest in the market were effective to a marked degree, despite such favorable factors as the restored United States Steel common dividend and that corporation's remarkable statement of earnings, redemption of the regular five per cent dividend by the St. Paul directors and advances in prices of such important products as iron, steel, and other metals.

Wall Street also found encouragement in the president's preparedness address which was reflected in higher quotations for war bonds and an excellent December railway returns and the state of general trade as exemplified in the swollen bank clearings.

On the other hand the indifference of investors and traders to these helpful happenings was itself a cause of discouragement. The success attending the sale of the New York state bonds and four per cent bond issue proved the soundness of inherent financial conditions which might be more obvious had the heavy offers of stocks and bonds from abroad. In connection with the foreign situation, Washington's rejection of the Lusitania incident and growing irritation at England's attitude regarding this country's proposed postal service treaty to renew apprehension in quarters where that feeling had been stifled.

The main however, the reactionary tendency of the week was traceable to the existence of a weak technical market. The movement of the trading indicated an over-bought condition, particularly in specialties, and this situation will probably have to undergo a reaction by the usual process—elimination of weak accounts.

When Gasoline Runs Low.
In Farm and Fireside is an ingenious suggestion for motorists whose gasoline has run so low that they have trouble in hill climbing.

One sometimes is caught out with a low supply of gasoline through having to make long detours to avoid bad roads or from other causes. The supply can be made to stretch over this emergency by adding denatured alcohol or kerosene. Occasionally there is sufficient gasoline for the ordinary level road, but not enough for an unexpected hill.

In this case the principle of pressure feed can be applied. Screw the cap down tight on the gasoline tank and then sharpen a match to fit the ventilating hole in the cap. Blow into this hole as hard as possible and immediately plug with a sharpened match. Usually this will enable the driver to make the hill without further trouble. But if not he can turn the car around and back uphill.

Doctors' Bills.
Your doctor's bill, as a general rule, reads, "For professional services rendered." That means that you are to pay for work done and not for miracles performed. If you hire a doctor to attend you in sickness you enter a contract to pay for his expert services, whether he succeeds in curing you or not. It would be unfortunate for both parties in the contract if the terms were otherwise.

Two things are not yet clearly understood by some people—first, a doctor's fee is collectable, and second, a doctor is not legally bound to attend any one under any circumstances unless he wants to. You can't make a doctor work for a contingent fee, and you can't make him work at all if he chooses to refuse his services.—Chicago News.

One of Nature's Show Places.
Ogden canyon, a deep cleft through the towering Wasatch mountains, overlooking the Great Salt Lake, is one of nature's show places, cut in the solid rock by the river which runs through it, the rushing water, from prehistoric times, carrying quantities of sand and gravel which simply filled out the present wonderful canyon. Ogden river was flowing west along its present course before the lofty Wasatch mountains came into existence. The raising of the mountains went on slowly for ages, so slowly that the river kept its place by cutting down its ever rising bed. In no other way can scientists rationally account for a river rising on one side of the range and flowing directly across it.—Argonaut.

Magnetic Storms.
Contrary to the general belief, magnetic disturbances do not begin at the same moment all over the globe. Instead of that they progress around the earth. In the case of abrupt disturbances, which are usually comparative minute in their effect on the compass needle, the complete passage around the earth requires from three to four minutes. For the bigger effects or for the greater magnetic storms the rate of progression is slower, so that it would take them half an hour or more to pass around the earth completely.

Y M C A NOTES

Many meetings and suppers have marked the activities at the Association the past week. The Humane Society board of directors met for lunch Monday evening and afterwards held their public meeting in the hall. On Tuesday noon a committee of pastors and laymen met for lunch and conference. On Thursday the Federation of Women's clubs met in the hall.

The classes in the gymnasium are being well attended. The senior class now has good material for a basketball team. A group of these boys went to Zanesville Thursday evening and played the Independent team there. The following fellows took part in the game: Smucker, Goodwin, Keyes, Rawlings, Young, Hazlett, Charles Allen and Isaac Emmons went with the team. The score was 36 to 16 in favor of Zanesville. What's the difference, it's all for the fun.

The following new members have been added since last writing: Clarence Davis, Joseph Hawkins, Homer R. Rogers, Wilfred Rawlings, Robert Pryor and John Alexander.

Calvin Hazlett, whose school was closed for two weeks, is home and has been helping with special work around the association. He took the place of Richard Stevens while he was home on sick leave for three days this week.

Mrs. Laura Michell sends word from Wierton, W. Va., where she is staying with her son, that she is unable to return to take up her former duties at the lunch counter. The members regret to hear of her illness.

Another class in English for Coming Americans will start next Monday evening. Any man wishing to learn to read and write English should join this class. It will meet at 7:30 o'clock. The fee is $1.00 for a month. Members who know those who desire instruction should help to get them into this class. The four contest teams of the Intermediate B class are all working hard for first honors and aside from creating a lot of interest in the class there is some first class all-around athletic material beginning to show among the boys.

There will be a basketball game between representative teams of the Intermediate A and Intermediate B classes Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The following men will report at that time: Brubaker, Burgess, Bannock, Horby, Sheppard, Osburn, Freinier, Stowell, Reichard, Morgan and Phillips. Athletic contests have been started in the Intermediate A class. These contests are scored according to the Universal Athletic scoring chart, and a record is kept of each man's score. High man to date is Glen O'Hara with 105.

Vista.
I review the past. I am grateful for the growth and development that has steadily increased our Association's usefulness to young women the world over. I survey the present. I am one of 343,000 members in the United States, and of 780,000 in the world. The woe of the present war involves more than half our membership throughout the world. I extend to every suffering member my heart's deepest sympathy. Testing attainments by ideals. I search what I may do, and what our Association may do, to help establish among individuals, in the social order, and between nations, the love and righteousness from which alone can come permanent peace. I look to the future. I obey its summons to a great advance in the light of untouched resources in Jesus Christ.

Aim.
Deeper loyalty to Christ. Larger membership in His church. Wider knowledge of the association. Freer offerings of service, money and personality.

Prayer.
O God, strengthen in me and in every Association member the ability to perceive and interpret the Kingdom of Heaven on earth. Show each one of us how in our own lives, and in the life of our association, our practice of the presence of God may result in the meeting of spiritual and temporal needs. Grant thereby that to me, and to every member throughout the land, this Jubilee may proclaim the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free. Amen.

Friends who can not come to the membership supper are most cordially invited to come to the annual meeting program which will follow the supper hour. Both meetings are to be held in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church, Tuesday, February 1st; 6:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. All the association members are earnestly urged to be present for both hours. We have never had a big membership rally, bringing all our members together that they might know who are members of their own family. May we not have a real family gathering at this the beginning of our jubilee celebrating. Just think, not many of us will ever help to celebrate another Y. W. C. A. Jubilee. Fifty years is a good deal to add to the years we already have had. Why not get the most of this one.

Notes.
Miss Edith Stanton, formerly of Denison University, now a national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., whose headquarters are in New York City, will be the honor guest at the membership supper and will speak. All of Miss Stanton's friends are cordially invited to come this night to meet her and hear her speak. A new class in cooking was organized on Wednesday night, with an interest that means success for those in the class. As soon as the Monday night class has finished its work, this class will be held on Monday night, to avoid having classes on prayer meeting nights.

The new term for the gym classes started off well this week, with several new members in the regular classes and one new class for those who desire a morning class. This new class is held on Thursday mornings at 9:30 and is open to all who want a day time class. Register now.

The Industrial committee will meet on Monday, January 31 at 3:30. Mr. Hopkins will continue his course of lectures on Industrial History. All who are interested in this subject are invited to attend.

We are very fortunate in securing the help of these fine young women and we realize that it means personal sacrifice for them to give several hours on Monday each week to this work. It is another example of the way in which the student and city Y. W. C. A. may co-operate.

DEWEY TELLS HOW HE WON CORN CONTEST

The data concerning Corn Boys' 1915 contests shows Dewey Hanes, of Arcanum, Darke county, to be the champion junior corn grower of Ohio.

Although only 17 years old, Dewey has his own special system of growing corn. He believes in this system, because it is the second time he has won the junior championship. Dewey is the son of Joseph Hanes, one of the most prosperous farmers in Darke county. He has lived all his life on a farm and he hopes to spend the remainder of his life on one. His ambition is to become a scientific farmer, for he believes that farming is the finest of all scientific professions.

Dewey was among the 75 Ohio boy corn growers, who were taken on a special trip through the east. In Washington, he was presented to President Wilson.

His record, 153.7 bushels of corn from a single acre will show to the farmers, that it pays to fertilize heavily, and if the soil needs lime, it pays to lime thoroughly—that the use of manures pays, and that if the farmers of Ohio would adopt methods employed by the boys entered in the Ohio corn contest, our corn average would be up near 75 bushels per acre instead of 36 per acre, as it now stands. Dewey says:

"I selected seed for my acre early last fall, and after drying it, I put in on a board with spikes driven through, so that one ear would not touch another during the winter."

"The ground was plowed April 26th, it was disced four times, with a double cut-away disc, then harrowed and rolled before planting."

"It was cultivated four times in addition to the work of hoeing, that was done."

"I used 10 loads of stable manure and 600 pounds of Swift's bone meal fertilizer."

"The secret of success is good seed corn; well drained ground, well worked; consistent cultivation, with due regard to the weather and the proper use of fertilizers."

WILLYS OVERLAND PLANT IN LYMAN HOWE PICTURES

There is possibly no other industry that is so representative of American enterprise as the automobile industry. Still, on account of the industry being centered in a few localities, few have been privileged to visit a modern automobile factory. This thought inspired Lyman H. Howe to include a trip through an automobile factory in his motion picture travelogue that will appear at the Auditorium theatre on Sunday, January 30th.

As representative of the highest development in automobile manufacture, Mr. Howe selected for this subject the huge plant of The Willys Overland company at Toledo, O., the largest automobile factory in the world.

In these pictures one can follow the manufacture of an automobile from the time the raw material enters the factory till the finished car leaves the plant under its own power.

Here are mammoth drop-hammers in actual operation, forging red hot bars of steel into crank shafts and piston rods. Here is a huge press, exerting a pressure of one thousand tons, in which heavy sheets of cold steel are formed into frame side rails. Here, where the motors are assembled, are machines operating with an exactness almost human, performing several operations at one time.

But most interesting of all, perhaps, is the view showing the finished parts, after inspection, being assembled into a complete car, for this work is performed on an endless conveyor. Here is manufacturing efficiency in its highest development.

The trip through the automobile factory is only one section of the Howe show. Included is a wonderful revelation of the beauties of the Glacier National Park, Montana, and some excellent pictures from foreign countries.

It acted more like a miracle than a miracle than a medicine," said a well known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment Tonaline Tablets. "I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable success brought about by use of Tonaline Tablets so I decided to try myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger. Tonaline Tabs are a powerful inducer to nutrition, increases the number of blood corpuscles and as a necessary result builds up muscles, and solid, healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure."

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a form builder and nerve strengthener. Tonaline Tabs cost $1 for a 17 days' treatment.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, you meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless, sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

Theatres

"The Battle Cry of Peace," which comes to the Auditorium for two days next week, Wednesday and Thursday, February 2 and 3, was given a private exhibition at the Auditorium Friday morning by Mgr. Harry English. About fifty businessmen and members of the clergy with their wives, were in attendance, the guest of the management.

The production which is a Vitagraph-Blue Ribbon feature in nine reels, embodies in its cast, all the Vitagraph stars and is one of the most elaborate picturizations ever exhibited on a Newark screen. A three piece orchestra from Columbus furnished by Howe Zigler, together with the regular Auditorium orchestra, furnished the music which has been arranged especially for this production.

Seats will go on sale for this play, Monday and will be evening, 25, 45 and 50 cents. Matinee—price will be 25 cents any place in the house and the seats will be reserved. How Zigler's orchestra of Columbus, in connection with the house orchestra making a 12-piece orchestra, will furnish the music.

The "Battle Cry of Peace" written by J. Stuart Blackton is one of the strongest sermons that could be brought before the American public for preparedness for "defenseless America." Charles Richman, assisted by an all-star cast of Vitagraph players, gives a wonderful rendition.

The picture depicts the horrible atrocities and destruction that would be visited upon the United States, particularly New York, should the invading enemy knock at our doors. It shows New York in the hands of the enemy, the destruction of homes, the ravages of war upon women and children and the inadequacy of the Navy and Army in competing with their much stronger foe.

It further shows the work of the foreign representative in promulgating peace and meeting throughout the United States to fight the work of preparedness. Later it shows the same representatives in secret meetings arranging for the invasion of New York.

Charles Richman, as William Harrison is a strong advocate for preparedness. His mother, is of the class that believes, "we can throw a million men into the field in a few days." His prospective father-in-law a railroad magnate, is a strong pacifist and is deaf to all power of reasoning concerning preparedness.

A massive peace meeting is in progress in New York, when the invading army decides to enter the United States. The enemy's strong fleet, aeroplanes and large army, brought into play. The building in which the peace meeting is being held, is torn into splinters by the enemy's heavy guns. The loss of life in New York is appalling.

John Harrison rushed to his home to find his sister dead, his mother dying and the house in ruins. He hurries to the home of his fiancée, where one of the foreign agents is a guest. He denounces the agent as a spy, whereupon the agent draws a revolver and shoots to death from a window, two soldiers of the invading army.

Then with the aid of a governess, employed in the railroad magnate's home, the agent places the picture of Harrison and the magnate, and they are led away to be executed. The magnate is put to death with a number of other citizens in the public square of New York, but Harrison miraculously escapes death. He is found by his brother and with other members of the railroad magnate's family, tries to get out of the city in an automobile. On the way they are stopped by a regiment of the enemy and in a fight with the commander to protect the women, Harrison is killed. His brother and a brother of his fiancée are also executed.

The picture reproduces many of the horrible incidents of the present war, but it is not done in a sensational manner. It simply drives home the point of the argument for preparedness. In addition to the little scenario running through the lecture, the workings of the United States Navy and Army and coast defenses is shown.

"The Battle Cry of Peace," is a picture that every man, woman and child in the city of Newark should see, as it concerns one of the most vital questions before the American public today. In order to fully realize the necessity of preparedness, it is only necessary to witness this wonderful production.

Members of the Clergy and businessmen, who were the guests of Mr. English were strong in their praise of the picture and it is probable that a number of sermons will be preached in Newark, the text of which will deal with "The Battle Cry of Peace."

The King's Game.
Pathe announces a tri-star combination in his Gold Rooster feature at the Grand next Monday and Tuesday, Pearl White, George Probert and Sheldon Lewis help to make this a winner. The story tells of the adventures of an unusual young duke, whose father, the old Grand Duke of Kiev, coveted the wife of Count Dardinis, his colonel of hussars; of the old grand duke's plot to get her for himself; of her accidental death at the hands of his Cossacks, and of the colonel's escape with his little daughter to America.

The young grand duke, now an orphan, comes to America to complete his education. The nihilists send Perciley to kill him, but he is apprehended by the secret service who know the details of the plot. They dress the man in the grand duke's clothes and chain him to a carriage, and thus he rides as the nobleman. The grand duke, closely resembling Perciley, comes upon their rendezvous, and goaded on by the nihilists throw a box of bonbons at his double, unwillingly riding in the carriage. To make sure of their capture at the opportune time, the grand duke goes with them into the country.

Perciley escapes from the carriage, and his presence at the rendezvous makes it necessary that the grand

THE VERSATILE CHARLES RICHMAN

CHARLES RICHMAN

"The Battle Cry of Peace" is a great spectacle, the appeal of which is essentially to the Americanism of Americans, and it was but appropriate that the leading man should be essentially American by birth and in his professional activities.

Mr. Richman was born in Chicago in 1870 and made his first stage appearance at Miner's Fifth Avenue theater in New York on April 9, 1894, under the direction of the late James A. Herne.

Following several other engagements, he joined Augustin Daly, with whom he appeared as Bruno von Neuhoff in "The Countess Guehl," following his work in this play with a number of Shakespearean roles under the same management.

His first appearance on the stage in London was in 1897.

Two years later he returned to New York and since that time has appeared in a long list of plays, the most recent of which have been "The Revellers," duke explain. He escapes unharmed with the aid of Dardinis' daughter. When they are captured by the police the very young duke goes to a draw and lets it go.

Count Dardinis is reappointed colonel of Hussars, and his daughter becomes the Duchess of Kiev.

See it at the Grand next Monday and Tuesday.

"Alone in New York," a white slave picture play with a purpose. There are few white slave photo plays produced for the express purpose of exposing and eliminating the abominable condition known as white slavery which exists in almost all of our cities.

"Alone in New York," a white slave photo drama in two thrilling and vivid acts, is founded on actual conditions prevalent in New York city at the time the picture was produced. While the picture contains nothing of an objectionable nature, still, the management of the Gem theater feels that in presenting the picture on tomorrow they are doing so for the benefit of people of mature age, and suggest that in so far as the subject is not one which is likely to interest children, therefore their patronage, on this occasion is not desired.

Howe's Pictures.
Through the medium of Lyman H. Howe's travel festival which comes to the Auditorium, matinee and night, Sunday, Jan. 30, audiences may look, as from a car window, at glistening, sunlit, snowclad Alpine peaks; magnificent vistas and never-to-be-forgotten scenes in Glacier National Park; the rivers of France; the unique Firth of Forth bridge; Scotland; picturesque Madeira; the charm of pastoral Holland and Jorging in Italy. Then, too, there will be a ride in an aeroplane affording the real sensation of a trip in cloudland; stirring scenes of a torpedo boat which is submerged almost totally time and again during a terrific "A Man's World," "The Commuters," "One of the Family," "Diplomacy," "The Impostor," "The Lights of London" and "Bought and Paid For." The latter was the play in which he made his greatest recent personal stage success.

With one or two possible exceptions Mr. Richman has played more widely differing roles than any other American actor in the course of a long and busy professional life.

His appearance in the Vitagraph production of "The Battle Cry of Peace" is his first appearance on the screen, and arrangements have been made to secure his services permanently for the Blue Ribbon Vitagraph special features.

In "The Battle Cry of Peace" Mr. Richman plays the part of a young American, who, realizing the danger to which the defenseless condition of his country leaves the home of every American, is nevertheless unable to do anything toward securing adequate protection because of the pernicious activities of a Mr. Vandercruff, a professional "pacifist" and opponent of military and naval preparedness.

In this first screen role Mr. Richman adds materially to the scope of an already generous repertoire and is a powerful factor in building up the resilient, dramatic "punch" of a matchless photo drama.

Lodges

K. of P.
Newark Lodge, No. 13.
At the regular weekly meeting of Newark Lodge, No. 13, K. of P. held on Thursday evening, a very interesting meeting was had and enjoyed by all who were present. It is good for the eyes to see such good crowds out at the meetings here of late and it shows that there is more interest taken by the members than formerly, and the officers seem to try harder to do their part than when there is only a few members in attendance.

The relief committee reports several members sick with the grip but are getting along very nicely.

One new application was received and referred to the proper committee.

One application was voted upon and elected to membership.

Six Pages being in waiting were duly proven in the memorial rank of Esquire.

Next Thursday evening the Knight rank will be conferred on a class of about seven Esquires and the Officers desire that we have a large crowd come out to this meeting. The refreshment committee promises to have something on for the occasion. So come out brothers and extend the glad hand and help to make old 13 one of the best lodges in the County if not the largest. Visiting brothers always welcome.

Daughters of Veterans.
Philomena M. Wehrle Tent, No. 25 Daughters of Veterans met Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance and much interest shown. After the opening exercises a program arranged by the Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Hendershot in commemoration of McKinley's birthday, was given in a very impressive manner. Comrades Holler, King, Madera and Wilson gave interesting talks on McKinley as a soldier, statesman and president. Local state department and national communications were read by acting secretary, Mrs. Nichols.

The visiting committee reported numerous calls made on the sick, also flowers and flags having been sent to the sick. The new officers took hold of the work with a zeal that promises unbounded success for the new year. Too much praise cannot be said of our musician, Mrs. Burrell, for the faithful manner in which she discharged her duty the past year together with all of the past. The prizes for good attendance during the year 1915 were awarded to Mrs. Della Catt, Mrs. Olive Echelberry and Mrs. Ella Snider.

Arrangements were completed for a rummage sale which will be given at Old Market place, Feb. 5. An invitation was accepted to join G. A. R., W. R. C. and Sons of Veterans in joint celebration of Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12.

The Daughters will attend in a body the Sons of Veterans installation, Feb. 10. The next regular meeting will be Feb. 8. Each officer is urgently requested to be at their station, as there will be initiation. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30. Visiting members always welcome.

forward with little check. A robber held up the Cook Touring Agency a week ago, killed a policeman and wounded the cashier and escaped. It seemed the climax of the crime wave until the bank robbery overshadowed it.

J. Garland Stahl, better known as Jake Stahl, former football star and baseball manager, is vice president. He and others at work in the institution, together with a number of depositors, including a judge of the municipal court, were held up by masked men, who escaped in an automobile.

Apparently there was no clew. Bankers met to discuss means of protecting their property and civic clubs debated the proper training of boys to save them from careers of out-lawry, for most of the crimes were committed by mere youths, largely habitués of pool-rooms.

Captain Hunt was blue. His picked men were goaded to greater and greater efforts, but meanwhile glory was being reserved for two comparatively obscure plain-clothes men on the West Side. They were Detective Sergeants John Carton and Michael Vaughn.

Tonight Carton and Vaughn appeared bashfully before Mayor Thompson and received his compliments. The mayor said if the civic service law did not make it possible to reward them as they deserved, he would fight to have the law amended. Other detectives, who assisted in making the arrest, came in for their share of the praise, and everybody shook hands.

Carton and Vaughn owe their triumph to a case they were assigned to last New Year's eve—the robbery of the Daily News barns, of $444 by five men. They were look-

MISS MARION LUMLEY TO BROADEN FIELD AT COLUMBUS, O.

The friends of Miss Marion R. Lumley, formerly of Newark, who has been associated with Dr. J. F. Baldwin, of Grant Hospital, Columbus, for more than ten years, as his private accountant, will be interested to know that she has decided to broaden her field, giving her entire time to working out her ideas in office system, for a number of leading members of the profession in that city. Being an expert, and a pioneer in the particular methods she has introduced, the field is practically unlimited. The Advocate joins with many other Newark friends in hoping that Miss Lumley will meet with continued success.

Being asked on one occasion, by an old friend in the profession to state briefly how she succeeded so well in her line, Mrs. Lumley made the following amusing reply:

"My dear doctor:
"In response to your request for a prescription for success in the profession of accountancy, I would suggest the following compound, presupposing the possession of fairly good health:

1. Brain.
 2. Common Sense.
 3. Adaptability.
 4. System.
 5. Judgment.
 6. Tact.
 7. Diplomacy.
 8. Watchfulness.
 9. Patience.
 10. Respect for Self and Work.
 11. Confidence of Employer.

day, but he loved me the next," she declared.

To the intimation that her marriage with Dr. Mohr at Lynn, Mass., in 1909, the only one of which the state claims there is any record, would not have taken place but for a question involved in an insurance claim, she entered a vigorous denial. It was untrue, she said, that Dr. Mohr was intoxicated when that ceremony was performed.

The witness admitted that she had corresponded with stable boys and other servants for the purpose of keeping watch on her husband. Among those boys was Cecil Brown, who, with his half brother, Henry Spellman, is a joint defendant.

Alleged statements by the negroes that she had instigated the murder and had promised to pay them $3,000, were vigorously denied.

Apart from her testimony regarding the conferences over the question of an absolute divorce, the introduction of letters, written by Mrs. Mohr to George W. Rooker, brother-in-law of Emily Burger, who was wounded the night when Dr. Mohr was killed, was a feature of the afternoon session.

In one of these letters it appeared that Dr. Mohr had said to Miss Burger over the telephone in the presence of his son Charles: "I know we love each other and they are trying to part us." Another letter contained the declaration by Mrs. Mohr that she believed it impossible to keep Miss Burger away from her husband.

The third letter indicated that Mrs. Mohr, at the time she wrote it, was angry with the girl, whom she accused of breaking up her home.

"If I'd got hold of her Saturday," this letter said, "I'd have about killed her."

Mrs. Mohr did not deny that she wanted Miss Burger to know of her feelings.

"I was heartbroken," she declared, "and I wanted Miss Burger to know how distressed I was over her actions. But the doctor never would have married her."

Mrs. Mohr declared to be untrue the assertion that when they refused she told them "if anything happens to me through this you will regret it all your life."

The attorney general finished his cross-examination just before adjournment.

On the re-direct cross-examination Mr. Rice asked:

"What did your husband mean when he wrote to Mr. Sullivan: 'I am not in the mud-slinging business'?"

"I don't know,"

"What did he mean when he wrote 'I write in the defense of a good woman at present'?" Did he mean you were not a good woman before?"

"No, sir. I was always a good girl and mother."

She admitted that at the time the letter was written, she was not living with her husband but was with her mother in Taunton.

"Did you say that you had made a man of him and that everyone knew it?"

"Yes, the doctor always said I made a man of him and he told hundreds about it."

This completed Mrs. Mohr's testimony and she left the witness stand.

Mrs. Mohr, today, ended a long ordeal on the witness stand during which she made a personal defense of the charge that she hired the three negroes to murder her husband. The examination extended through the greater part of three court days. In this time she faced friendly and unfriendly attorneys who drew from her every detail of her life with Dr. Mohr. Many of these details were given reluctantly. She never wavered in her declaration that she had nothing to do with the murder, although she had objected to her husband's attention to other women.

The testimony of Mrs. Mohr was regarded by the defense as the most important at the trial. Cecil Brown and Henry Spellman, two negroes who, the state charged, killed Dr. Mohr and wounded Miss Emily Burger, his companion, are yet to be heard. George W. Healis, the physician's negro chauffeur turned state's evidence.

A letter written by Dr. Mohr in 1909, in which he admitted the validity of their marriage was introduced over the protest of the state. Mrs. Mohr was questioned closely regarding Dr. Mohr's statement that "I write this in defense of a good woman at present." At that time she said, she was not living with her husband, but was at her mother's home, in Massachusetts.

The trial was adjourned until Monday.

COMMISSION FORM OF CITY GOVERNMENT WILL BE DISCUSSED

The Commission Manager form of government for cities is one of the live subjects of our day. Many of the largest municipalities have already adopted it and are operating under it. Their experience shows a great saving to the tax payer as well as increased efficiency in the management of the business of the city.

The Men's Club of Trinity Church has arranged with the Hon. Stewart L. Tatum of Springfield, Ohio, to deliver an address upon this subject to the men of this city. Mr. Tatum wrote the present charter of Springfield in which the Commission Manager plan was incorporated. He is, therefore, to be considered as an expert upon this question.

The meeting will be held in Trinity Church Parish House on Tuesday evening, Feb. 1. A dinner will be served in honor of Mr. Tatum in the Parish House at 6:15. To this, any men of the city who desire to attend, are cordially invited. They are asked to give their names to Mr. Roderic Jones or Mr. George Pickup, or to purchase their tickets from Mr. Harry Graham. The dinner will be followed by a social smoker and this in turn by the address of the evening.

LICENSE BOARD SALARIES ARE CUT BY STATE BOARD

Columbus, Jan. 29.—A readjustment of salaries for liquor licensing commissioners in counties with a limited number of saloons was made by the state licensing board yesterday. In some counties, where only two saloons exist, commissioners received the same or even larger salaries than board members in counties where as many as 20 saloons were licensed.

The explanation is that at the last adjustment of salaries, the number of saloons to which the county was then entitled was used as a basis. Since then, many townships and municipalities have voted dry and decreased the number of saloons.

According to the new schedule, commissioners in counties, who from one to five licenses are granted yearly, will receive $10 monthly; five to 15 saloons, $15; 15 to 20, $20; 20 to 25, $25; 25 to 30, $30; 30 to 35, $35; 35 to 40, $40; 40 to 45, $45; 45 to 50, $50; and 50 to 100, $55.

EXPOSITION

COMMITTEE RETURNS TO STATE OF OHIO A PART OF APPROPRIATION MADE.

Governor Willis Thanks Members for Economy Shown in Expenditure of Public Money.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, Jan. 29.—In winding up its affairs today the Ohio Panama-Pacific exposition commission today returned $44,000 to the state treasury, and furniture and other property worth $2,500. This sum represented the balance between the $165,000 appropriated for the exposition and the $129,807 spent.

Governor Willis made a brief address to the commission before it disbanded, and thanked the members for returning "more than all the commissions in the state's history had ever returned before."

This report shows conclusively, added the governor, that this commission and its officers managed its business economically and efficiently, and refuses reports that the state's money was squandered.

The principal items of expenditure at the exposition were: Building and equipment, $70,500; other expenditures before 1915, $13,200; personal service, 1915, $13,000; agricultural, apples, wool, and honey displays, $7,500; main tenance, $18,000; light, fuel and water, 1915, $2,200; expenses incident to dedication day and Ohio day celebration, $1,200; poultry display, $1,900; dining room maintenance, $1,000; other social affairs, $548; automobile hire, 1915, $241.

The sum of $1,000 was received from sale of the building and $4,400 from sale of furniture and fixtures.

No, He Wasn't Sick.
The ocean liner was rolling like a chip; but, as usual in such instances, one passenger was aggressively, disgustingly healthy. "Sick, eh?" he remarked to a pale green person who was leaning on the rail. The pale green person regarded the healthy one with all the scorn he could muster. "Sick nothing!" he snorted weakly. "I'm just hanging over the front of the boat to see how the captain cranks it!"—Argonaut.

The Sculptor's Art.
Bowls—Yes, I know I'm ugly, but there is one great consolation. Biggs—What is that? Bowls—if ever I should become great and the people should resolve to erect a statue to my memory they won't be able to make me out any uglier than I am.—London Telegraph.

Preparedness on the Farm.
To my way of thinking, that's the best thing about farm work—you've got to be prepared for all manner of emergencies that you can't possibly prepare for. Maybe that sounds like an absurdity, but it isn't.—William R. Lighton in "Happy Hollow Farm."

Old Fashioned.
"No; she has never gone out much."
"How do you know?"
"Why, when she joined our sewing club she actually expected to do some sewing!"—Houston Post.

Good Reason.
"Why do you write articles on how cheaply people can live if they try?"
"In the hope of getting enough money to avoid having to live that way!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

Times must indeed be bad when even bricks are hard pressed for money.
